WILL IT EVER BE THUS?

Marion is again in the predicament of not knowing where they are at about the electric light franchise. The gentlemen who promoted the company organized last fall have quit cold. They are not to be censured particularly for that however. That was their privilege.

But several months have passed and gone since the old franchise expired and there has been absolutely nothing done towards giving Marion what she must have .24 hour electric service.

The lack of this modern necessity, not convenience, should make every citizen hang his head with shame at the thought of it. And the city councilmen should clothe themselves in sackcloth and repent of their slothfulness and inertia.

As an illustration of what LITTLE towns in the state have the writer is only mentioning a few that he really knows of personally, not hearsay, and no doubt many could be added to the list if an investigation were made.

Albany, a little town away up in the hills of Clinton County 75 miles from a railroad and the nearest coal mine six miles away has 24 hour service from their light plant.

Vine Grove, a town of about seven hundred people has had water works for several years and they have an efficient volunteer fire department too.

Smithland . . . You all know Smithland . . . has all day electricity, so has Wheatcroft.

We are not censuring Mr. Jenkins for not furnishing this electricity either. His franchise did not specify this. And in all fairness The Press will say that Marion has the best service at night of any town in the country.

WATCH FOR OUR "FORMAL" OPENING

Little by little The Press office is taking on the appearance of a real printing office. There is lots of work to be done yet but we keep plugging away as we find a little time between looking after our many customers.

The move has caused much confusion of course. But we are sure that from now on there will be fewer complaints as time goes on and we get in better shape to take care of you. Our mailing list has been a source of much annoyance to us and to you but we are now completing the transfer from the old style book system to a modern card system and feel sure that the change will be for the better.

Of course we are not completely fixed up here as yet. The front for the building we occupy is not yet in place and it is pretty hard to get to us, but we hope the building will soon be complete and we will be able to meet you in a regular "front office".

Meantime we will be glad to see you when you come in. If you have any thing to kick about let us hear that too for we can not rectify an error if we know nothing of it.

And watch for our big "opening" when the building is complete, and watch us improve The Press.

PATHE PHONOGRAPHS

KNOWN the world over for their superiority. We have a shipment of both phonographs and records enroute. Do not buy any kind of talking machine till you hear the PATHE.

This is also the home of the BALDWIN LINE OF PIANOS AND PLAYERS. We will gladly show you WHY THEY ARE BETTER.

LATEST HITS in player rolls and records, of course.

GOOD SHOWING FOR CRITTENDEN

Mr. J. N. Wickwire who is representing the Federal government in the fight against the transmission of diseases from animals to man, especially tuberculosis, was in Marion last week to get a live stock survey of Crittenden County. The purpose of this survey is to give the government some idea of the work it is about to begin and the means it will have to take to handle it properly. He gives us the following statistics for this county: pure bred geldings, mares and colts, 3757; pure bred stallions, 6; common stallions, 15; mules and mule colts, 3137; jacks and jennets, 44; registered cattle, 115; other cattle, 10207; sheep and goats, 3110; hogs and pigs, 14787; acres of land, 231476; estimate farmers, 1800; pure blood hogs, due to boys pig club, 600. Mr. George Rehe has about 260 pure bred duarcs. Mr. Bird has about 30 pure bred duarcs.

HON. BOB BARK ON THE JOIL

Bob Wilborn, Hon. B. E. Wilborn if you please, is again at his former post of duty as superintendent of the mechanical department of The Press office. Bob has now served one term as the representative from this district—and served it well—but his closest friends think that Crittenden county looks better to Bob than Frankfort as a steady diet. However this is not to be taken as a statement that Bob has obtained a divorce from politics. He's made to run for Congress—but Bob can serve his constituents mighty well by taking care of their printing needs—and there's not a better one in the business. Let Bob do it for you—if you don't we both lose.

BIDS FAIR TO RIVAL "FET"

An epidemic of fever is headed towards Marion that is a hard one to shake off when once contracted. This fever will cause men to close their stores about 2:30 on a bright sunny afternoon, women to leave their sewing and social duties, farmers to quit plowing their corn at that time of the day—and sometimes a county official has been known to succumb. This malady has been dubbed the "baseball fever" and is contracted by men, women and children in all walks of life. The people of the county surrounding Marion are going to be "exposed" to some of the most violent cases this summer.

The Marion Reds are going to play the fastest semi pro and amateur teams in the business. Players are even now working and every afternoon at the park and if you want to gradually contract the fever before the season opens come down some of these pretty afternoons and look over the talent under contract to play this summer.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET

The democratic state central committee has called a county mass meeting at 2 o'clock, p. m. on the first Saturday in May for the purpose of selecting county delegates to attend the state convention to be held in Louisville on May 4 at 2 o'clock.

The state convention will select delegates for the national convention to be held in San Francisco on June 28. Each county is entitled to one delegate for each one hundred votes or fraction thereof cast for democratic electors in the election of 1916. Crittenden County is entitled to 15 delegates in the state convention.

HOUSE BITTEN

We have often heard of people who were dog bitten or snake bitten or frost bitten, but house bitten is rather an unfamiliar term, but that is really what happened to one of our inhabitants last week.

Mr. Albie McNeely was carelessly striding up Bellville street, surveying the people when his coat brushed the nose of an old gray mare. The animal became very indignant at this procedure, set her ears at a forty-five degree angle and raising her head politely set her teeth well into Albie's ribs.

OBITUARY

Mary Wilson Threlkeld was born September, 13, 1825. She was married to J. W. Hill December 9, 1845, to this union was born four children, three sons and one daughter. Mrs. Hill had been a widow for almost forty eight years. She was a devoted wife and a good mother. Her sons come to honor, they are ruling elders in their home church at Chapel Hill. Three of her grand sons are Deacons in the same church. She professed Faith in Christ at the age of fifteen and was a faithful member of the Church during all of her active life of ninety four years, three months and fourteen days. God took her home away from the toils and cares of this world to the rest prepared for the people of God. May the blessing of the dear Lord abide with her children relatives and many friends.

FORMER MARION BOY WEDS

The following was clipped from a Rockland, Maryland, paper:

"Rev. D. P. Barnes, pastor of the Christian church, officiated at the marriage here yesterday afternoon of Miss Iris G. Ixon of Washington and Frederick H. Moore of Quantico Va., the home of the minister being the scene of the ceremony. They were accompanied by two friends."

Mr. Moore is a Marion boy, being born and reared here. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Moore of East 2 Depot street and has many friends here.

FREE SEEDS FROM YOUR CONGRESSMAN

The annual distribution of free vegetable and flower seeds by the United States Government has begun and you can get your allotment by applying either at this office or at the office of County Clerk L. E. Guess. First come first served as long as they last.

Learner says he hopes some day to be able to distribute seeds that will grow well in a republican county, but somehow luck has been "agin" him in the first district.

RESOLUTIONS

At the monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society, M. E. church, South, the following resolutions were adopted:

1. Is with sad and living hearts that we pay a last tribute to the memory of Mrs. W. N. Rochester, so long our faithful secretary.

That we feel the very great loss the Society has sustained in the death of this devoted, earnest, Christian woman.

That this Society has lost in her a spirit so consistently devoted to its professed efforts that her place may not be filled.

That our sincere love and sympathy be extended to her family in their hour of bereavement.

That we place upon the tablets of our hearts the memory of her unquestionable loyalty and sincere devotion to her home, society and church.

That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family and one to be sent to the Crittenden Press for publication; also that a page of the Minute Book of our Ladies' Missionary Society be dedicated to her memory.

FEDERAL SURVEY BEGUN

About forty federal surveyors arrived at Marion last Friday to continue the survey of the Ohio River Road from Louisville to Paducah. They had finished the survey to the Crittenden county line at Searles before coming to Marion, and intend to complete it in Smithland before they leave Marion, which will probably be about six weeks. The roads would not permit them to drive through so they had their six trucks loaded on flats and shipped to Marion. They are for the time camping at the old tobacco factory.

REVIVAL IN PROGRESS

The united evangelistic campaign between the Main Street Presbyterian Church and the Methodist is now in progress. Dr. Flanagan of Madisonville is preaching at 3 and 7:30 p. m. each day this week at the Presbyterian church and Rev. McAffee of Marion will be the preacher next week at the Methodist church. Good crowds are in attendance, and great interest is being manifest in these services. An urgent invitation is extended by both churches to all the people to attend. Rev. McAffee was formerly pastor of the church here.

TWO SPOTS

The town that thinks the county school needs no playground, is usually the same one where people can't keep their fruit safe from the kids.

The fact that a farmer buys machinery to save horse power, does not always prove that he can put running water into his house to save wife power.

Some people wont improve their lawns, because they have no time to mow them fter they are fixed up, and they wont mow them because they have have never been graded and improved.

Agricultural papers report milk situation serious. Judging from the sounds, it becomes serious about once in every three hours among the neighbors having infant children.

Great interest is being manifested in breeding thoroughbred cattle, but few people pay much attention to developing thoroughbred children.

According to the kid element, why worry about the teacher shortage, when the problem is so quickly settled by closing the schools.

Formerly the farm hands had to be assured merely of good food, but now there has to be a movie show three nights a week at the nearest cross roads center.

The Senators are said to be all nerved up and worn out over the quibbling peace treaty debate, and a lot of them can comfort themselves with the fact that they are going to be granted a long and extended vacation.

The people who want to repeal prohibition still find it rather convenient to have their help turn up Monday morning.

The government is now regulating the packers, another luxury for the public to pay for.

It has not been claimed that woman suffrage will increase the silent vote.

If the League of Nations acquires as much power as the anti saloon league, it will do pretty well.

BLACKBURN

It is claimed that 1920 is the womans age, but we dare any mere man to tell an old maid she is that old.

The fellow who did as he pleased when single generally don't after he gets married.

Character and fame in this day depend too much on how much money you have.

We had rather have a clean record and a clear conscience and be in moderate circumstances than to be a millionaire and afraid to meet God.

We have more respect for the fellow who is too lazy to work than the one who is too proud to work.

The girl with 8 lots of cheek usually uses a lot of paint.

An ounce of help beats a ton of advice.

An old widower always reminds us of a young pup, they try to be frisky but are too awkward.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF BLACK-DRAUGHT

Black-Draught Highly Recommended by Illinois Man for Liver and Stomach Disorders.—Used It for Fifteen Years.

Singerton, Ill.—"For fifteen years we have used Theodor's Black-Draught, and have not as yet found anything that could take its place," writes Mr. W. F. Rister, of this town. "I have used it for indigestion a number of times, and it gives relief," continues Mr. Rister.

"For sour stomach, a heavy, bloated feeling, it is splendid. And when the liver gets torpid, so that when you sleep and awake suddenly you feel dizzy, a few doses will set you straight."

"We keep it and use for constipation and the above troubles, and find it most satisfactory. I can recommend it to others and gladly do so. For the number of years I have used Black-Draught now, I ought to know."

In its 70 years of usefulness, Theodor's Black-Draught has relieved thousands and thousands of persons suffering from the results of a disordered liver. And, like Mr. Rister, many people feel that, after using Black-Draught nothing can take its place.

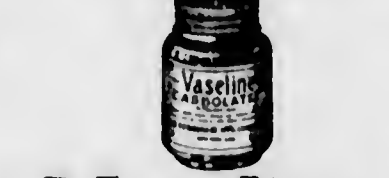

If you haven't tried Black-Draught get a package today.

Nearest every drugstore keeps it.—Adv.

BELCHING
Caused by Acid-Stomach

Let EATONIC, the wonderful modern stomach remedy, give you quick relief from belching, flatulence, food-repelling, indigestion, bloated, gassy stomach, dyspepsia, heartburn and other stomach troubles. They are all caused by Acid-Stomach from which about nine people out of ten suffer in one way or another. This writes as follows: "Before I used EATONIC, I could not eat a bite without belching it right up, sour and bitter. I have not had a bit of trouble since the first bottle."

Millions are victims of Acid-Stomach without knowing it. They are weak and anemic, have poor digestion, bowels improperly functioned, although they may eat heartily. Grave disorders are likely to follow if an acid-stomach is neglected. Chronicity of the liver, intestinal congestion, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach—these are only a few of the many ailments often caused by Acid-Stomach.

A sufferer from Catarrh of the Stomach of 11 years' standing writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach for 11 long years and I never found anything to do me any good—just temporary relief—until I used EATONIC. It is a wonderful remedy and I do not want to be without it."

If you are not feeling quite right—lack energy and enthusiasm and don't know just where to turn for the trouble—try EATONIC. And you know better by the time you are away.

SOMETHING ABOUT POTATOES.

One medium-sized potato, an ordinary serving of a common cooked meal and a medium-sized slice of bread contain about the same amount of energy-yielding food, principally in the form of starches.

We need starch to give us energy to live and work.

As a source of iron, potatoes are equal to whole cereals and eggs when properly cooked. The potato contains but a small amount of one type of building material which is very important; that is, nitrogen; but the amount seems to equal the average amount found in cereals, on the basis of the usual servings.

Although potatoes and cereals have a good supply of lime and phosphorus, they should not be depended upon as a source of these minerals. As lime and phosphorus are needed for building bones and teeth as well as regulating the body processes, they should be supplied from milk, eggs, legumes.

One great advantage that potatoes have over cereals is that they help to keep the fluids of the body neutral or slightly alkaline, because of the potassium they contain. Those foods which have an alkaline reaction in the tissues seem to furnish better health to the average individual.

The waste in preparing a potato after cooking, as compared to that of the method of peeling before cooking, is just half, as the skin holds back the mineral salts; the protein and starch and none of this food substance comes off with the skin after cooking.

The temperature of water in which potatoes are put or to cook also influences loss of nutrient. Experiments have proved that the loss of mineral matter is little; the loss of protein is over twice as great when potatoes are put in to cook in cold water as in boiling water.

From all points of view the best methods of preparing potatoes are by baking and steaming.

GOOD THINGS FOR OCCASIONS.

For those who have a sweet tooth, the following will be enjoyed:

Date Jam.—Remove the stones from two pounds of dates after washing them in warm water. Put them in a saucepan with a pound of sugar, one pint of water, the juice and rind of a lemon and a dash of nutmeg. Simmer until thick, stirring frequently. Pour into glasses and seal.

Baked Ham in Milk.—Parboil a piece of smoked ham cut from the center of the ham, two inches thick, in milk to cover, twenty minutes. Put into a saucepan and cover with a paste made of one-half cupful of mustard, mixing with some of the milk, and spread over the ham. Bake, surrounded with the milk, until well browned, then turn and cover the other side of the ham with the sugar and mustard. Bake until well browned.

Chicken Cooked in Milk.—Cut up a chicken as for fricassee, cover with sweet milk, after rolling in well-seasoned flour, and bake in a moderate oven until the chicken is tender. The gravy will be thickened with the flour and ready to serve with the chicken.

Canapes, Spanish Style.—Cut the desired rounds, squares or diamonds for the canapes. Fry them in a little corn oil until well browned. Pound to a smooth paste one-fourth cupful each of butter, cooked chicken, two tablespoons of ham and grated cheese, a dash of paprika and a little salt. Spread this well-blended paste over the prepared bread. Garnish each with figures cut from slices of pickle or cooked beets.

Salad Dressing.—Beat three eggs well stiff, add the juice of one lemon and beat until the eggs have thickened; season with one-quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper and a trace of cayenne. Cook in a double boiler in oil cream, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire and add two tablespoons of butter. When serving this dressing, add an equal quantity of whipped cream and such seasonings as the salad combination requires.

Breakfast Toast.—Prepare toast bread by dipping it in cold water and putting into a covered pan in a hot oven. Serve well buttered with hot, seasoned tomato sauce poured over the bread. The tomato sauce should be seasoned to taste with salt, pepper, butter and, if liked, a little sugar.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Epsom Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

And Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Adv.

LADY LARKSPUR

By MEREDITH NICHOLSON

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

LADY LARKSPUR

"Lady Larkspur" is a delightful little whimsy of a story by Meredith Nicholson, author of "The House of a Thousand Candles" and other charming romances that nearly everybody has read. It's short and sweet and full of the fanciful charm which has made Nicholson deservedly popular.

Bob Singleton is the hero. He's an aviator inviolated home. His Uncle Bashford has married an English woman in Japan in his old age, died and left a widow whom Bob has never seen. Said widow, present whereabouts unknown, is mystery No. 1. Mystery No. 2 is Violet Dewing, an entirely charming English actress, also missing from public view. Bob's friend Searles has written a play, "Lady Larkspur," especially for her and naturally is combing the universe to find her.

Bob goes to the Bashford "farm" at Barton in New England to recuperate. The household is made up of broken-down hotel employees befriended by the uncle—comedy material.

A young and attractive woman arrives and says she's the widow. Bob is quickly captivated. Appears in due course a puzzling stranger, a remarkable fan, and a suspected German spy—material for adventure and incidents both exciting and entertaining, to say nothing of mystery deep and dark.

In the end—but what's the use in spoiling it! Read it for yourself.

CHAPTER I.

The "Troops"

"It was hard luck," said Searles, "that I should spend a year writing a play for a woman only to find that she had vanished—jumped off the earth into nowhere. This was my highest ideal, Singleton, the best writing I ever did, and after the vast pains I took with the thing, the only woman I ever saw who could possibly act it is unavailable; worse than that, absolutely undecipherable! Nobody knows I have this script; I've kept quiet about it stupidly because I'm not going to be forced into accepting a star I don't want. I have a feeling about this play that I never had about my other things. The public has been so kind to my small offerings that I'm trying to lend 'em on to the best I can do; something a little finer and more imaginative, with a touch of poetry, if you please. And now—"

He glared at me as though I were responsible for his troubles. As he knew I had been flying in the French aviation corps for two years and had just been invalided home, I didn't think it necessary to establish an alibi. Fate had been kind to Dick Searles. In college he had written a play or two that demonstrated his talent, and after a right apprenticeship as scene-shifter and assistant producer he had made a killing with "Let George Do It," a farce that earned enough to put him at ease and make possible an upward step into straight comedy. Even so we talked a capacious house was laughing at his skill. "Who Killed Cock Robin?" just around the corner from his lodgings. So his story was not the invention of a rejected playwright to cover the non-appearance of a play which nobody would produce.

"Isn't it always a mistake to write a play for a particular star?" I suggested. "Seems to me I've read somewhere that that is among the basest sins of our playwrights."

"Oh, stuff, my boy; but this isn't one of those cases. The person I had in mind for this play wasn't a star, but a beginner, quite unknown. It was when I was in London putting on 'Fairy Gold' that I saw her; she had a small part in a pantomime, and pantomime is the severest test of an actor's powers, you know. A little later she appeared in 'Honorable Women,' a capital play that died early, but there again I felt her peculiar charm—it was just that. She was exquisite! No one ever captured my imagination as she did. I watched her night after night. I was afraid that when I heard her voice it would break the spell, and I actually shook like a man with an ague when she tripped out on the stage as the ingenue in 'Honorable Women.' And her laughter! You know how hollow the usual stage mirth is, but that girl's

"Oh, I'm Not Knocking the Dead!"

Dewing in a trill. She was well liked by her associates in spite of the fact that she was a bit offish and vanished from their world the minute the curtain fell.

"A clever governess out of a job, satisfying a craving for excitement and playing the mysterious role as a part of the adventure. Am I to assume that you've buried your play and that the incident is closed?"

"Oh, I didn't burn it; I have a copy locked in a safety vault, and Dalton left one heavily sealed in a small exclusive London hotel where he found after much difficulty, the girl had lodged during her two engagements."

"You're kidding," I said. "Show me her photograph."

He laughed ironically. "Never a chance, Singleton! You haven't yet got the idea that this young woman is out of the ordinary. She refused to be photographed—wrote it into her two contracts that this was not to be asked. I never saw her off the stage, and I can't give you a description of her that would be of the slightest assistance to the keenest detective alive. In that pantomime she was a frolic, the clown's daughter, and, although nobody saw her, she was the whole place, the elusive spirit that could evoke laughter and tears by a gesture, a lifting of the brows, a grimace. By utterly different methods in 'Honorable Women' she proved her wide range of appeal. Hers was the one true characterization in the piece. When Terry was in her prime you remember how we used to say that only one bird sang like that, and from paradise it flew? Well, this bird sings on the same branch! Her voice was her charm made audible."

"Have some more!" I pleaded. "You never talked better in your life."

"Isn't he an ass," he said sardonically. "Let's forget her and take a squint at your affairs. Just what do you mean to do with yourself?"

"My shoulder still cranks a little, and the doctors advise me to sit around for a while. They offered me some jobs in Washington, but desk work and inspection duty are too tame after a couple of years spent in star climbing. I'm going up to Barton-on-the-Sound and I'll camp in the garage on my uncle's place."

"Your uncle played you a nasty trick," interrupted Searles, "getting married and then adding to the crime by dying. You couldn't beat that for general spitefulness."

"Do you remember the Immortal Lines?"

"Oh, skip your dear uncle!" The bellman exclaimed. "As he angrily thumped his bell?"

"Oh, I'm not knocking the dead!" he protested. "Mr. Bashford always though had the joy of the lark ascending."

"By Jove!" I ejaculated, "there's more here than appears. You're in love with the girl!"

"Hush!" he cried impatiently. "You'll think I'm talking rot, but this girl was the visualization of a character I had dreamed of and groped after for years. That's all; but it's a whole lot, I can tell you!"

"Let us be practical for a moment, Searles," I urged. "Emperors, presidents, and popular murderers are not more conspicuous than the people of the stage. No girl talented enough to get two engagements, even for small parts, in a first-class London theater could vanish. With your acquaintance in the profession you'd be able to trace her anywhere on earth. It's the way, what did the paragon call herself?"

"Violet Dewing was her stage name and the only name the managers knew her by. I assumed that, of course, all I had to do was to think my play and then have Dalton, who represents me over there, make an appointment to read it to her; but Dalton worked for three months trying to find her, without success. I wasn't the only person who was interested in her. Dalton said that half a dozen managers had their eye on her, but after 'Honorable Women' closed she stepped into the void. I knew what you're thinking—that the other members of the two companies she appeared with must have had some inkling of her identity, but I tell you Dalton and I exhausted the possibilities. It was by accident that she got her chance in the pantomime—some one wouldn't do at the last minute, and they gave Miss

"Fifty thousand cash and the right to use the garage at the Barton farm. Calling it a farm is a joke; it's rocks mostly. He bought the house to have a place to store his prints and jap ceramics. He hated motoring except in taxis up and down town, and when I urged him to set up a machine, he told me to go ahead and buy one and build the garage. Told me I'd better fix up the studio in the garage and have it as a place to work in. His will provides that I may lodge in the garage for life."

"The estate footed a million, as I remember, so I can't praise his generosity. But the widow, your unknown auntie, the body-snatcher who annexed the old boy—what of her?"

"I've asked the trust company people whether she's in sight anywhere, and they assure me that she is not on these shores. Torrence, the third vice president—you know Torry; he was in the class ahead of us at college, the man who never smiles—Torry said she acknowledged the last remittance three months ago from Bangkok—wherever that is. I suppose the old girl's resumed her tour of the world looking for another retired merchant to add to her list."

"Very likely. To what nation, tribe, or human group does this predatory person belong?"

Unrest at the Barton farm.

RESEMBLED AN UNUSED HOME

Archaeologist Describes Sensation on Entering Egyptian Tomb More Than 3,000 Years Old.

In February, 1905, an American explorer in Egypt, T. M. Davis, discovered the tomb of Yum and Thunna, father and mother of that Queen Ty whose influence played so great a part in Akhenaten's religious reformation.

The tomb was intact and the objects it contained were as perfectly preserved as if they had been shut up only a few weeks. One of the archaeologists described his sensations on entering the place as being very much like those of a man who enters a town house which has been shut up for the summer. Armchairs stood about, beautifully carved and decorated with gold, the cushions on one of them, stuffed with down and covered with light blue velvet in perfect preservation stood in a corner. Most startling of all was the discovery of a jar of honey, still liquid and still preserving its characteristic scent after 3,000 years!

Too Deep for Him.
An Irish sailor, after pulling in 50 fathoms of line, muttered to himself: "Sure, it's as long as today and tomorrow! It's a good work of work for my five men. More of it yet? The say's mighty deep, to be sure." Then he suddenly stopped short; and, looking up to the officer on watch, he exclaimed: "Bad luck to me, sorr, if I don't believe somebody's cut off the other end of this line!"—Congregationalist.

A Thought.
It's not easy to be famous or skillful or pre-eminent in one's chosen profession, but it is easy for every man to be a kind father, a good neighbor, a true friend and a loyal citizen. If he is these he is all that men of renown can be. The great man who has won his greatness at the expense of his children or his neighbors or his friends has trained lasting enemies for temporary fame.

ESCAPED AN OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many Such Cases.

Cairo, Ill.—"Sometime ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."

—Mrs. J. R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Of course there are many serious cases that only a surgical operation will relieve. We freely acknowledge this, but the above letter, and many others like it, amply prove that many operations are recommended when medicine in many cases is all that is needed.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

"Father of the Chapel."

This term, as applied to the printing industry, is one of religious devotion. When, centuries ago, printing was done in monasteries, it was customary to discuss all matters connected with the work in the chapel, with the father superior in the chair. Hence the term "Father of the Chapel."

Why They Were Scared.

Teacher's Splendid Record.

Miss Jennie Eick, placed on the pension list at the age of seventy by the New York board of education after 52 years' continuous service as a teacher in one school in the Bronx, has taught 40,000 children, including three generations of at least one family. In all the 52 years she was never late in reporting for duty and has been absent only once, when there was a death in the family.

Cataract is a local disease greatly induced by constitutional conditions. It therefore requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARACT MEDICINE is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the eye. HALL'S CATARACT MEDICINE destroys the foundation of the disease, gives the patient strength by improving the general health and restores the vision. It is the only medicine that cures cataract. The HALL'S CATARACT MEDICINE is sold by all druggists.

Beginner's Luck.

"Stranger," said Mike Pete, "you've won quite a little money since we began to teach you this game known as draw poker."

"I've had what might be called beginner's luck."

"You sure have. And me and Three-Finger Sam here has decided it's about time to change the entertainment to some kind of a game that you know and we don't."

True Forgiveness.

It is the sweet and entire forgiveness of children, who ask pity for their sorrows from those who have caused them, who do not perceive that they are wronged, who never dream that they are forgiving, and who make no bargains for apologies.—It is this that men and women are urged to learn of a child.—Alice Meynell.

Evidence Stork Had Traveled.

Julia had been over to see the nephew's new baby and upon her return was asked how she liked it, to which she replied: "Well, mother, it is all right, only the stork must have been a long time on the way with it, for it certainly is awfully named."

Anyhow, They Saw Action.

The untold aircraft battery had gone into position for the first time in the Toul sector. Determined, like most newsmen, not to let anything get away from it, it loomed away indiscriminately and viciously at every speck that appeared in the sky. After one particularly active session its commander ran across an old friend, who asked him how the outfit was coming along.

"Oh, not so badly," answered the C. 15, without elation. "We brought down five planes the other day."

"Five? Why, that's wonderful! Might as well have done that. Are you sure you got the figure straight?"

"I don't doubt about it," replied the captain gloomily. "One plane and four allied."—The Home Sector.

No Escape.

"You charged me more for this steak than you used to."

"Restaurant Manager—I have to pay more for it. The price of meat has gone up."

"And the steak is smaller than I used to be."

"That, of course, is on account of the scarcity of beef."—Buffalo Courier.

AFTER 6 YEARS—STILL WELL

How Strong and Hearty Though Case Looked Hopeless

"Six years ago I was in awful condition," says E. K. Chase, 30 E. Cross St., Ypsilanti, Mich. "My family was told I couldn't live more than two months. I was in constant pain from the uric acid and was so bad with rheumatism, my legs seemed all drawn up. My back never stopped hurting. The kidney secretions were held back until only a few drops came, and I floated until I thought my skin would burst. My legs were twice their normal size. The doctor seemed to fill my chest and press against the heart. For three months I never moved out of the chair and I choked and gasped for breath like a dying man. All the doctors failed, and my weight went from 135 to 125 pounds. 'Doan's Kidney Pills' saved my life. Eleven boxes cured me of every complaint. I have been well six years and able to work as hard as any man."

If You Need a Medicine

You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, and that are sold at a profit, are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. As medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and enclose ten cents. Also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barb's Compound, and 2 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and will make the hair soft and glossy. It will not redden the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.—Adv.

CONCERNING NEW PASTIME CLOTHES

SUITS for outing, or general sports wear have never been as much in demand as they have been by southern tourists this year. We need a new name by which to describe these very smart clothes that retain a flavor of sport attire, even when they are made of rich materials. "Pastime clothes" has been offered and comes very close to fitting their character than any other term suggested. No matter how handsome these pastime clothes they must continue to remain informal. They are here to stay, for they are very becoming, they succeed in shoving off years in the appearance of older women—and everyone wears them.

The sweater, the sweater coat, and specially designed millinery play most important roles in pastime clothes, but one may be omitted in this sport wear and leave a sweater out of the reckoning, for there are substitutes for it. While scarfs and capes of angora and coats of this and other materials are among them. A clever sport costume, shown in the picture above, includes a skirt of cross-bar silk worn with a plain blouse and a velvet coat—lined with silk like the skirt. Black and dark blue are the colors liked for these coats. Dark blue cloth coats with plain white skirts, and a good many admirers among women who borrow this crisp combination from the men who wear, with one exception, dark blue coats with white trousers in their outing suits.

The second suit pictured demonstrates that very handsome fabrics are used with the judgment in outing clothes. A heavy white silk woven in the effect of corduroy makes the skirt and skirt with a crepe silk in a light color, flared with white, used in collar, cuffs, sash, and a wide band on the skirt.

SOMETHING NOVEL IN SUITS

THE pursuit of suits, which has been going merrily on for the past two weeks at a snail's pace, has recently many daring novelties to shoppers. The younger women like these new things that answer their demand for "something different," and they are to be recommended when circumstances allow two or more suits in the spring outfit. But if only one is to be bought it is usually best to select it in conservative rather than unusual style and rely upon accessories to add the spice of novelty to it. However, suits with fancy vests, like those of last spring, are well represented in this season's displays; the young woman, who owns one may furnish it with a new vest in this spring's mode and indulge her vagrant fancy when she buys a new suit.

One of these suits furnished with a handsome vest is shown here. Its important feature is a vest of black satin with applique of silver ribbon and silver embroidery. The vest has a narrow yoke at the top and tapered flaring at the bottom of black satin; the narrow grille is made of it and finished with pendant silver flowers. A vest of this kind works a transformation in a plain suit and the same coat may have a variety of vests of different character.

The oddity of the other suit is its appealing feature. It is a fur dress from this coat to the pantline dress.

BRIEF FASHION HINTS

Women's suits for spring are characterized by novel lines.

Spring coats are to a large extent of three-quarter length on loose, belted and semitailored models.

Thin embroideries in bright colors are much in evidence on hats for spring, especially on hats of the sport order.

Headresses of tiny colorful flowers arranged on metallic ribbon with matching girdles are a delightful innovation recently introduced by a firm of French origin known for its ability to produce novelties in the way of dress accessories.

Red buckles are among the latest novelties in negligee. One of yellow tulle, lined with coral, and another of turquoise velvet recently seen are especially worthy of note. The velvet model is cut on straight lines and trimmed with lace ruffling; the coral one was a square with upstanding collar and was trimmed with a border of shining silver done in chain.

I'M SO GLAD I DIDN'T TAKE NASTY, SICKENING CALOMEL

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Makes You Feel Just Grand and You Can Eat Anything and Not Be Salivated

Calomel salivates! If you feel bilious, headache, constipated. If your skin is sallow, your breath foul, your stomach sour just go to any druggist and get for a few cents a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous Calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty Calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take Calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, with a hearty appetite, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children.—Adv.

MODERN YOUTH HARD TO TRAP

Little Near-Tragedy Story That is an Example of His Quick Wit and Duplicity.

Of course, he shouldn't have done it and all that sort of thing, but both Hazel and Betty were charming girls, and it was summertime, and he was young, and he had gone and got himself engaged to both of them. He was sitting on the bench pondering the various problems this situation presented, when two soft hands were laid lightly over his eyes and a soft voice whispered at the back of his head "Guess who?"

"Now, the voices of Hazel and Betty were much alike, too much alike when heard as a whisper to make identification sure. And it didn't help any when the voice cooed: 'I'll give you a hint—It's some one you told you loved.'"

Still he hesitated, his mind in a whirl. Should he name either girl and chance it? Already he felt a cooling of the air, as the voice continued: "Well, if that doesn't tell you who it is, of course I know who it is!" he exclaimed. "It is the prettiest, sweetest, dearest, smartest little girl in all the world!"

"Oh, you don't say so?" she chirped in satisfied delight. "How did you really know for sure it was I?"

Had Experience. Doctor Chingom (meeting former patient)—Ah, good morning, Mr. Pink. How are you feeling this morning?

FASCINATED THE FAIR SEX

Marat. Repulsive in Person and Manners, Was Noted for His Attractiveness to Women.

Jean Paul Marat, one of the leading and most infamous figures of the French revolution, was described by a contemporary as "beyond any question the ugliest man in the whole of France—and not merely ugly, but positively repulsive in person, habits and manners." And yet, in his early years, he was the most popular physician in Paris, not because of supposed professional skill, but on account of his attractiveness to women, the most wealthy and beautiful women of France daily crowding his consultation rooms, pushing, almost fighting, to get a word or perhaps a single from him. That he turned a cold shoulder to their attentions seemed only to inflame their ardor, and at one time he contemplated flight, so embarrassing became their attentions. Even when he contracted a horrible skin disease while hiding in the sewers of Paris, fair women continued to adore him.

The Retort Courteous. He—Don't you try to make a fool of me?

She—Not after your boasts of being a self-made man and doing the job much better than I could.

Dire Consequences. She—You liked my cooking well enough just after we were married. He—I didn't have dyspepsia then.

The Contrary Sex. "How would you answer the objection to equal suffrage that every woman on a world think and vote just as her husband does?" "That the user of that argument was not a married man."

The Itching and Sting of Blazing, Fiery Eczema

Seems Like the Skin is on Fire.

There is a burning discomfort caused by Eczema that becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable, and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only give the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source.

The source of Eczema is in the blood, the disease being caused by an infection which breaks out through the skin. That is why the most satisfactory treatment for all so-called skin diseases is S. S. S., for this remedy so thoroughly cleanses the blood that no impurities can remain. Get a bottle today, and you will see results from the right treatment. S. S. S. is an excellent system cleanser; it is not sold or recommended for Venereal Diseases. Write for advice. Address Medical Director, 110 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.
